Smart Integration for Smarter Work

 RICOH CloudStream

Optimise Your Print Fleet for Greater Productivity

As enterprises reconsider their technology stacks and user needs to support a hybrid workforce, connectivity, data security, and compliance becomes more crucial than ever before. RICOH CloudStream stands out as a cloud-based platform that seamlessly integrates print device management, document management, and collaboration tools.

Taking a human-centric, system-centric, and document-centric approach to work can propel business forward.

RICOH CloudStream

Futureproof your business and boost productivity with RICOH CloudStream. Our hybrid multi-tenant platform offers unparalleled cloud-based print, scan, and device management. Enhance your MFPs with multi-vendor print management, cloud integration, and home printing solutions. Transform print management with Ricoh today, for a better tomorrow.

Benefits

- Secure your MFPs using major authentication systems like Azure AD, LDAP, and OKTA with support for card, password, and PIN authentication
- Easily manage your print fleet across multiple locations with built-in usage tracking, network monitoring, and one-click update deployment
- Enhance data security by executing print jobs only when the intended recipient is physically in front of the printer
- Streamline workflows by instantly converting scanned documents into searchable, editable formats at the point of scanning
- Simplify print device management and reduce IT administration overheads

How RICOH CloudStream Works

RICOH CloudStream operates as a unified cloud platform that manages all devices within your print fleet, whether they are RICOH or non-RICOH MFPs. It offers comprehensive print management for the entire workplace, including home offices, co-working spaces, and mobile environments. For added security and control, RICOH CloudStream can be deployed on public cloud servers or installed on your own on-premises servers.

Manage

- Install and maintain drivers for all devices in your print fleet through a single web-based interface
- Reduce the burden on your IT resources

Empower

- Print anywhere, anytime, with any device
- Scale according to business needs

Enhance

- Reduce energy and paper costs from underutilised devices
- Optimise workflows for efficiency and compliance
